The ZRNO Festival, founded with the vision of exploring photography as a handcrafted art and a space for free expression, has over the years become a significant cultural event in Macedonia and the region. Since its inception, ZRNO has brought together over 100 participants – photographers, visual artists, researchers, and curious enthusiasts from across Europe and beyond. The festival has grown into a platform that nurtures learning, experimentation, and community, where analog and alternative photography and noble photographic processes are treated not only as craft and technique but also as a way of thinking, perceiving the world, and human relationships.

The exhibition will feature photographs created using:

Wet Collodion, Cyanotype, Lumen Print, Mordançage, Polaroid Manipulations, Classic Black and White Photography, and Experimental Black and White Photography.

The Graphic Imagination in Screen Printing exhibition promotes a graphic technique that is slowly being forgotten in the modern digital age.

The exhibition presents notable visual artists from Macedonia, representing multiple generations who have left a mark on the promotion of contemporary Macedonian visual art.

Respectfully,

Public Institution – Cultural and Information Center, Skopje
